

COOKIE POLICY

Planet Program SRL ("Company" or "we"), a registered company that operates in accordance with Romanian law, as a data operator, present to you this Cookie Policy to explain how we process and protect personal data. This Cookie Policy allows you to inform yourself about how you can accept or refuse to consent to each category of cookie mode, at the beginning of our interaction through our website.

1. What is a cookie and for what purpose is it used?

Our website uses cookie technology to provide you with a better web service. The data stored by the cookies used on our website never show personal details on the basis of which an individual identity can be established.

A cookie file is a small text file that is stored and / or read by your web browser on the hard disk of your final device (for example, computer, laptop or smartphone) depending on the websites on which you visit them. Cookies also make your interaction with websites safer and faster because they can "remember" your preferences (for example, authentication, language) by sending information back to your site - the original web site (first-party cookie) or to another website to which they belong (third-party cookie), when you visit the respective website again, using the same end device.

2. How can you control cookies?

You may withdraw your consent regarding cookies at any time. For this purpose, you can block or delete cookies either through your web browser settings or by using softwares provided by third parties, or by following the specific instructions for the cookie categories in the following sections. In any case, you may experience problems with the use of certain parts of the website if you disable cookies.

If you want to remove the cookie files stored on your devices and configure your web browser to refuse cookies, you can use the preferences settings in your web browser. You can usually find the browsing settings for cookies in the "Options", "Tools" or "Preferences" menus of the web browser you use to access our website. Depending on your existing web browsers, various means may be used to disable cookies. For more information, please visit the dedicated website for your browser:

3. The cookies used on our website

Based on the function and purpose for which the cookies are used, they are usually classified in the following categories, which the Company uses on its websites:

- The absolutely necessary cookie files allow you to browse the website and use its basic functions. Usually, they are only installed in response to actions that you perform that equate to a service request. These cookies are indispensable for the use of the website;
- Functionality cookie files are used to recognize you when you return to our website and allow us to offer you enhanced and customized features, such as "remembering" your preferences. These cookie files collect anonymous information and cannot track your browsing on other websites. The expiration period of these cookies is a maximum of 2 years;
- Analytics and performance cookies allow us to recognize and count users, as well as collect information on how the website is used (for example, the pages that a user opens most often and if the user receives error messages from certain pages). This helps us improve the way our website works, for example, ensuring you can easily find what you are looking for. The expiration period of these cookies is a maximum of 2 years. With regards to third-party cookies, the expiration period may vary and in some cases may exceed 2 years;
- Other types of cookie files that can be used later: We will inform you, through our updated policies, if any other types of cookies are used.

Please note that Planet Program SRL uses the services of third parties to obtain information about your use of our website to optimize your user experience. These third parties (including, for example, external service providers, such as web traffic analysis services) may also use cookies, over which we have no control.
